Abstract

The purposes of this research were to study knowledge and the participation in the election, compare these The participation in the election of the president of student council, undergraduate program, Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University. The Methodology: The Sample of this study consisted of 400 personnel. The research instrument used for data collection was a questionnaire. The statistical procedures employed included frequency, percentage, mean, standard deviation, t-test, One-way ANOVA, and LSD method for pair matching comparison. The research findings were as follows: 1. Undergraduate Program, Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University have knowledge of The Participation in the Election at high level. 2. The Participation in the Election of the President of student Council, Undergraduate Program, Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University at high level. 3. Undergraduate Program, Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University classified by personal factors the results as: different personal factors level different level of the participation in the election in term of the overall at .05

INTRODUCTION

University is the place to provide higher education and higher skills for students to use the knowledge for their career, for economic development, and for creating a quality society. The education management focuses on the quality development of students (Veerapong Vongprasert, 2017). Hence, the process of education management is coin with two sides. On one side, it is a process of learning process and learning activities to develop the students in each level to create the knowledge, process of thinking and analyzing for the students in order for them to use their knowledge and skills in their future career. On the other side of the coin, it is to cultivate, training, and providing the ethics and integrity for students to be responsible for themselves, community, and environment as well as to be good citizen and be able to live in harmony with organization, and society with happiness. It is imperative for student to be develop with the three D which are democracy, decency, and drug-free (Ministry of Education, 2010)

From the policy of Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University, it focuses on the election of the President of Student Council in order for students to be aware of the equity in student activities. However, the present situation of the President of Student Council has been viewed as inequity which results in the lower participation rate from the students and many students do not think of the vitality of the President of Student Council. The President of Student Council should have been the organization that drive the students force in a positive way and allow students to be leaders who can speak, think, and promote the proper value in the right way.

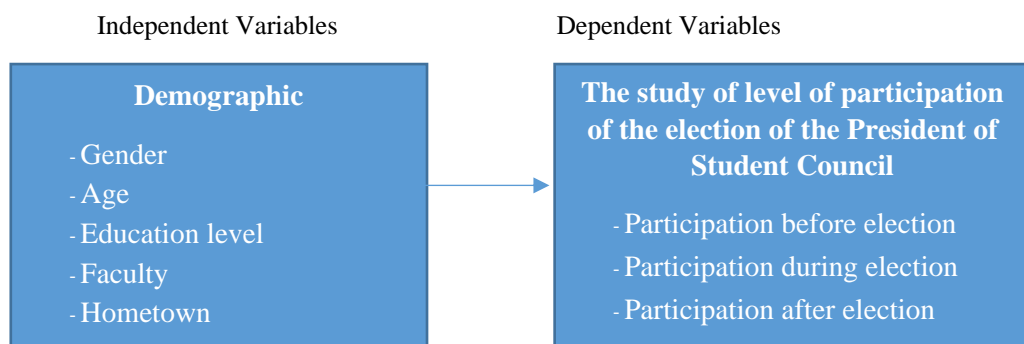

Therefore, the promotion of the President of Student Council is very important and need to be supported to in the way of democracy with the king as the head of the state. The researcher is interested in studying the level of participation of the election of the President of Student Council, as well as to study the relationship between knowledge of the election of the President of Student Council and the level of participation from the undergraduate students in order to use the findings of the research to improve and enhance the election process of the President of Student Council and increase the level of participation from the students in the future.

OBJECTIVES OF THE RESEARCH

1. To study about the level of knowledge of undergraduate students of Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University regarding the election of the President of Student Council.
2. To study the level of participation in the election of the President of Student Council of Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University students.
3. To comparative study the level of participation in the election of the President of Student Council of Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University students according to their demographic information.

RESEARCH FRAMEWORK

For the research framework, the researcher utilized the concept and theory of participation in the election of the Office of the Election Committee of Thailand (2008).

RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

The population of this study included all 17,870 undergraduate students of Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University. Probability sampling method and proportional simple random sampling with a 95 percent of level of confidence was utilized to obtain 400 sample (Yamane, 1970). Questionnaire was designed as research tool for this study. Statistics included percentage, frequency, mean, standard deviation and inferential statistics included independent t-test, F-test, and one way ANOVA.

FINDINGS

Table 1

Demographic information of students revealed that the majority of students

Demographic Information	Total	Percentage
1. Gender
-Male	146	36.5
-Female	254	63.5
2. Age
- Younger than 20 years old	295	73.8
- 21 and higher	105	26.2
3. Education Year
-First year	214	53.5
-Second year	97	24.2
-Third year	66	16.5
-Fourth year	23	5.8
4. Faculty
- Education	12	3.0
- Science and Technology	141	35.4
- Humanity and Social Sciences	97	24.2
- Management	71	17.8

Table 2

Knowledge about the president of student council election

Knowledge about the President of students council election	Level of Knowledge
	N = 400	Percentage	Meaning
1-4	5	1.2	Low
5-7	104	26.0	Medium
8-10	291	72.8	High

Table 2 revealed the knowledge about the president of student council election. The majority of students had high level of the knowledge about the president of student council election, which was about 291 students or 72.8 percent, medium level of the knowledge about the president of student council election, which was about 104 students or 26 percent, and low level of the knowledge about the president of student council election, which was about 5 students or 1.2 percent.

Table 3

Level of participation

Participation	Mean	S.D.	Meaning	Rank
Participation before the election	3.36	0.839	Medium	3
Participation during the election	3.73	0.792	High	1
Participation after the election	3.37	0.938	Medium	2
Overall	3.49	0.748

Table 3 revealed the level of participation. The high level of participation was the participation during the election with a mean of 3.73, S.D. 0.792. The medium level of participation was the participation after the election with a mean of 3.37, S.D. 0.938. Finally, the medium level of participation was the participation before the election with a mean of 3.36, S.D. 0.839. In addition, the findings also revealed that the level of participation in terms of demographic information, the differences of demographic information had differences in their level of participation with the statistical significance of 0.05.

DISCUSSION

From the findings of the study of the level of participation in the student council election of Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University, there were a high level of knowledge of the students. The findings concurred with the findings of Tivaporn Chantranon (2016) who studied the level of participation of people in the election of Tombon administration which found that there were high level of participation and high level of the knowledge of election. In addition, the findings also revealed that the differences of demographic information had differences in their level of participation with the statistical significance of 0.05. This findings also concurred with the findings of Tivaporn Chantranon (2016) who studied the level of participation of people in the election of Tombon administration which found that the demographic information differences such as age, level of education, income, social status, information of election, and knowledge of election had a relationship with election.
